PROLOGUE

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Robert Edward Lee is a memorable occasion from any point of view, and has a dual significance from the standpoint of Washington and Lee University. Not only do we respect General Lee as a man who believed in a cause and gave up all to defend this cause, but also as a man who's guidance and faith formed the foundation on which Washington and Lee has grown to its present stature. Thus, in the realization of this fact, the staff of the 1957 Calyx has dedicated this yearbook to Robert Edward Lee, the man and the ideal.

AN INTANGIBLE HERITAGE

1865. Virginia, the prostrate wreck of a state made a battlefield, swallowed her defeat and tried to rise again. It was an agonizing task: her economy was paralyzed, her houses, farms and cities were burned, her youth were dead or maimed. Little Washington College, which before the catastrophe had been a fairly prosperous, though rural institution, lay, like Virginia herself, an empty shell under the summer sun. The Union troops had departed. What remained was hardly a college—a scarred group of brick buildings, a few splintered desks, a decimated and weather-worn library, and a heritage. The students were gone, and most of them could never again be reached through human agency; there was a pitiful remnant of what once had been a faculty, a very tired remnant. The six trustees who met on that August morning had before them a formidable, almost impossible, task: build a new college on the ruins of the old—build it on borrowed money, on promises, and on an idea. The names of those six men are little remembered today. What measure of fame they have arises from the presence of their names at the foot of a letter from Robert E. Lee. Lee's letter was in reply to an invitation from these six men to accept the presidency of Washington College. He hesitated at first, because he felt that his name, indelibly printed as it was upon the mind of every man who had suffered to defeat the South, would jeopardize the recovery of Washington College, and "cause injury to an institution which it would be my highest desire to advance." But the trustees persisted, and finally he discarded his anxieties and set to work to build a school. There was little to work with, but he made it seem more than enough. He revitalized the school of liberal arts, which had constituted the whole of the ante-bellum college, and then went on to establish a law school, a department of engineering, a business school, and a department of journalism—the first in the country. When he died on October 12, 1870, there were more than four hundred students enrolled at Washington College. The endowment, through the magic of the name he had felt would be a handicap to the school, had been greatly increased. The material progress at Washington College during General Lee's five years serves to explain in some way what the institution had and has; it cannot explain what the institution was and is. The true essence of Washington and Lee is not found in its physical plant or in its endowment or even in its many textbooks and lecture notes. It is not found in anything that can be held in the hand or photographed. And yet, this essence, just as much as any tangible thing, is a legacy from Robert E. Lee. The Old South of the romantic novel is a myth, and only lived, if at all, in wistful thought. But, like any myth, it had its elements of truth. There were not happy slaves singing in the firelight in front of every cabin, and there were not splendid Georgian mansions on every plantation, nor gracious ladies in every front parlor, nor dashing gentlemen on every flagstone terrace. But just as there were some happy slaves and some splendid mansions, there were some Southern Gentlemen. Robert E. Lee was one. He knew the meaning of honor and loyalty, and what it was to be a gentleman who was both gentle and a man; and he taught what he knew by his example. His life, more than his work, has been inherited, and is the real essence of Washington and Lee. Besides a curriculum and a group of buildings, he left an example and an attitude. The example has become a tradition, the attitude an atmosphere, and both are at the very heart of Washington and Lee. Nothing long prevails that does not have a deep, intrinsic worth. A standard that long survives its initiator must have some value within and of itself. Customs certainly change, and today's fad is tomorrow's faux pas, but customs are always and ever the reflections of deeper values, and are never permitted to stray too far. If they do, then the values that underlie them are altered in the process. Man expresses his values and deep convictions by exemplifying in his life the principles in which he believes. When he stops acting on his beliefs, even if it is just a small act such as greeting a stranger or being meticulous about the truth, then something more than a tradition is dead. That is why we cherish our customs, our speaking tradition, our honor system, and our code of integrity; not because they are sacrosanct in themselves, but because they stand for a basic ideal, and because through them we can in some small way come nearer that ideal. Robert E. Lee did not invent truthfulness, courtesy, or honor, but he practiced them. He left behind for Washington and Lee students a blueprint, as it were, of a good life. There are only a few hasty pencil sketches of it in existence; by and large it's passed down by word of mouth. This legacy, which was passed to us at a crucial point in our lives, is infinitely more significant to each of us as human beings than anything we managed to pick up in the classes. We came to college impressionable: we had some home-grown values, but we hadn't tested them or even thought about them very much. Most of them came into hard times by the end of our freshmen year. That is normal, and it happens to everyone who attends college, no matter where. It is not this tearing down that has significance, but the rebuilding. Like Washington College in 1865, each of us had to be rebuilt, and General Lee performed the task for us, just as he did for Washington College. At the end of our four years we have a set of values again, a set of values which is for the most part a product of Washington and Lee, and of General Lee. In the future, when people ask us to describe Washington and Lee, we can tell them the same thing the catalogues do, but they can always read about that. We ought to tell them something they don't know and can't look up. Something to pinpoint Washington and Lee. Here is what I'd tell them: "What Washington and Lee owns uniquely is not really definable (as nothing truly unique can be). Perhaps the closest I can come is to say that it resides in an atmosphere, not as the catalogues say, of the Old South, but of the South-That-Should-Have-Been . . . the South of Robert E. Lee."

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

January 18, 1957

Dear Dr. Gaines:

It is a privilege to join you in observing the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Robert E. Lee. The traditions of Washington and Lee University provide a splendid setting for this commemoration.

Son of Washington's cavalry officer and friend, Lee was by marriage and spirit a member of George Washington's family. For over thirty years, as a surveyor, engineer and soldier, he helped to secure the boundaries of the United States.

In the tragedy of divided loyalties, even while he led the Army of Northern Virginia, Lee served as the highest standard of leadership for soldiers both of the North and South. One of the noblest men our Nation has produced, his influence remains unchanging and his picture is on the wall of my office next to Lincoln's.

On the campus of the University to which he gave his last full measure of devotion, his contribution to the Union, his leadership and integrity are carried forward in the hearts of your young students. In the promise of these men, gathered equally from all parts of the United States, I find the fulfillment of Lee's career.

With warmest greetings to you all,

Sincerely,

Dwight D Eisenhower

THE PRESIDENT

To the Class of 1957:

This book, I am sure, will please you when you first open it. Names and pictures and comment will be immensely fresh in your recent memories, and you will appreciate them all.

If you are wise, you will keep this book. It will please you much more when you have been out of college ten years, or thirty years, or fifty years. It will render to you this service, that in the strain of the noon-day or in the serenity of the sunset, you are once again in the dawn.

I hope it will bring you sweet and treasured memories. I hope it brings you, at whatever stage of life you may review it, the noblest aspirations and the holiest purposes you dared when you were very young.

Always your friend,

Francis P. Gaines

Dear Mr. Abaloff:

Thank you for your recent letter and for the pictures of the top entrants in The Calyx Yearbook contest, which I am returning to you herewith.

Since all the girls looked so charming, it was a difficult choice for me to make. However, my choices are indicated on the cards you sent, attached to their respective pictures.

Best wishes.

Rho Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded at Washington College in 1856. Inactive during the Civil War the Chapter was reactivated in 1876 and again in 1921 when it became Alpha Rho. This is Beta's centennial year.

Following the footsteps of their brothers in past years, we find Betas in almost every activity on campus. In publications we have Tom Litzenburg, editor of the Tuesday Ring-tum Phi; Farris Hotchkiss, managing editor of the Calyx and editorial advisor on the Ring-tum Phi; and Bill Wisdom, advertising manager of the Calyx. Two members of the house are in ODK, leadership fraternity: Russell Ladd and Tom Litzenburg. Russ is president of ODK, and Tom is a dormitory counselor along with Archie Jenkins and Farris Hotchkiss.

Much credit must be given to Mrs. Davis Martin's constant care of her Betas. She molds, or, as she says, exerts a restraining influence on all Betas during their college career at W&L.

On the athletic scene we have Tom Moore and Phil Brown, the two varsity ends. Tom is also playing basketball and baseball. On the lacrosse team are Dave Noble, Sam Merrick, and John Croker. Intramural athletics this year have seen Beta teams in the finals of many events; perhaps the most outstanding victory for us was the football championship, which was won in a hard fough battle. Ned Baber was again the number one player on the golf team, and playing tennis for the varsity will be Bill Rice and Owen Harper.

The Betas with Lou Close as social chairman have had an excellent year highlighted by the Opening Dance Set's cocktail party in honor of Archie Jenkins, president of the dance weekend. The Centennial was observed by a banquet and dance at the Mayflower with many prominent Betas returning for the event. Our house mother, Mrs. Davis Martin, was presented with a television set and an engraved silver bowl in resognition of her ten loving years of service to the Betas.

On the campus social scene Beta was excellently represented; Archie Jenkins was president of the Openings Dance Set, and Tom Litzenburg and Farris Hotchkiss were vice-presidents of the Fancy Dress Ball.

The Phi Chapter men of 1956-57 were outstanding examples of leadership. Ted Kerr was elected executive committeeman from the Freshman Law Class and Corkey Briscoe was president of the Sophomore Class. Buck Buchanan was chairman of SWMSFC, Harry Brunett was selected business manager of the Dance Board and Arnold Groobey and Brunett were co-chairmen of a highly successful University Religious Conference. Ted Kerr was Regimental Commander of the ROTC, and he and Tom Moore were members of the Scabbard and Blade.

Rich Berry, Harry Brunett, Don Fowler, Arnold Groobey, Jim Lewis and Bill Towler were dorm counselors. Morgan Schafer and Arnold Groobey were selected to ODK. Kerr was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." Buck Buchanan and Arnold Groobey were on SWMSFC. Morgan Schafer was named producer of the 1957 Minstrel Show. Ray White was head of the Interfraternity Song Fest. Bill Towler was Thursday Editor of Home Edition. Derek Schoen and Bill Russell wrote a column for the Tuesday edition of the Ring-tum Phi. Briscoe was activities editor of the CALYX. Rich Berry and Groobey were members of Phi Eta Sigma. Phi Chapter placed five men on Honor Roll and eight on Dean's List.

In the field of sports, Dick Whiteford was co-captain of the wrestling team and teamed up with Tom Moore to lead the lacrosse team. Morgan Schafer was co-captain of the soccer team. Roger Doyle coached the White Cobs for the SWMSFC's annual Corn Bowl football game. Delts played every sport, winning three intercollegiate and four intramural trophies. Thirty-five men won varsity letters.

Thanks to the untiring efforts of Rush Chairman Bruce Keeling, fifteen freshmen accepted bids offered by Phi Chapter. Chuck Crawford as head of the Social Committee, put forth continuous effort to insure the well balanced social life of Phi Chapter.

Behind us all the time, giving that extra push when it was needed, was our house mother, Mrs. Smith, and our advisor, Mr. Farrar. With their help, 1956-57 was a good year for Phi Chapter.

The Washington and Lee Chapter of Delta Upsilon was established in 1930, and through a spirit of brotherhood and endeavor has maintained a prominent position on this campus over the years.

Mrs. Cay Langhorne, in her first year with the DU's, has already endeared herself to the brothers. "Cay," as she affectionately prefers to be called, has enriched our lives with her grace and charm, along with sympathy and human understanding.

Emphasizing leadership, versatility, and character, Delta Upsilon's membership includes the following campus leaders: Herb Hummers, who was tapped for ODK, is a dormitory counselor, varsity tennis player, co-sports editor of the CALYX, along with Jerry Susskind, and has been consistently on the honor roll. Mike Barry is a member of the commerce fraternity and secretary of the Junior Class. Susskind and Dick Mauter are co-sports editors of the Tuesday edition of the Ring-tum Phi. Others on the paper are John Haun and Lash LaRue, who is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and is on the Shenandoah staff and the Christian Council. Art Grove is co-fraternity editor of the CALYX, on the staff of the Southern Collegian, active in the Troubadours, and on Dean's List and Honor Roll. Max Caskie is a columnist for the Ring-tum Phi, editor of the Shenandoah, president of the Washington Literary Society and has been a member of the Quiz Bowl Team. Lew John is president of Phi Eta Sigma, treasurer of the IFC, and treasurer of the Glee Club. Jeb Rosebrook is senior editor of Kaleidoscope and features editor of the Southern Collegian.

In athletics, Bill Harrison and John Wilcox ran cross-country, while freshmen Tom Alexander and Wick Hollingshead aided the soccer team. Dom Flora, the Generals' star guard, came within a few points of breaking the all-time freshman-sophomore basketball scoring record. Joe Hess and John Wilcox should see a lot of action of the freshman basketball team this year. In spring sports John Turner and Frank Hoopes star on the baseball team, with Art Grove on the lacrosse team and Slim Cherrybone and Jack Muirhead running track.

Achieving distinction in all phases of campus life, DU finished well up in the intramural program and placed second in scholarship and is looking forward to many more years of outstanding service to W&L.

At Washington College in December of 1895, four students founded the Alpha Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order. The four founders met daily in the room of William Walsh in the South Dormitory of the College, which is now Robinson Hall. Since the growth of the Order was so rapid, national headquarters were established at Louisville, Kentucky.

At the time the order was founded, General Lee was President of the College, and it is to him that the Kappa Alpha Order owes much of its tradition and high idealism that still prevails throughout the customs and ritual. Robert E. Lee has been considered the spiritual founder of the Order, for had it not been for the guidance offered by him to the four young men who conceived the Order, we could not stand united.

Also due to General Lee's influence, chapters in the Order are limited to the southern area of the United States as a fitting tribute to the cause for which he fought.

Today the Kappa Alpha Order consists of eighty-one active chapters with a total membership of over 35,000.

The KA's have won the Scholarship Trophy seven out of the last nine semesters. We also have a very fine social life, with all the brothers enjoying the parties. Noel Copen and Townsend Oast are on the Executive Committee this year. Townsend Oast was recently tapped by ODK along with Cliff Smith. The KA House is represented in just about every extra-curricular organization on the campus. As usual we have participated wholeheartedly in Intramurals.

With Dr. W. M. Hinton as Faculty Advisor, and Mrs. J. M. Lewis as our house mother, Alpha Chapter has maintained an excellent record. It is even more significant, however, that the members find the Fraternity a source of lasting friendship, which is the basis of a wholesome social life.

Each year every one of the seventeen fraternities proclaims to all (on their own pages) that it is the grandest and the greatest fraternity in all university-land. Casting modesty to the four winds and speaking with all sincerity about Kappa Sig, we feel coerced to admit the point. For, indeed, we are the grandest house of all.

Just like most of the other fraternities, we were founded many years ago—1869 to be precise, four years later our chapter, Mu, was founded here in this little bit of Virginia tradition, Lexington, "The Shrine of the South."

And just like most of the other houses, we have our celebrities. They aren't really celebrities but what we like to think is representative of all of Kappa Sigma membership. Jerry Hopkins edited the Southern Collegian and was secretary-treasurer of ODK and Sigma Delta Chi; Mike Norell was Troubadour president; Lloyd Dobyns was student assistant in the W&L News Bureau and Senior Editor of Home Edition; Bill Miller was managing editor of The Ring-tum Phi; Charlie Richardson was a Fancy Dress Vice-President and class officer; Voigt Smith was copy editor of both the humor magazine and newspaper; Jim Findley was a cheerleader; and Burt Tyler was Gaines Guard Commander.

Also, like every other house, we had our jocks. Senior Bob Blair and freshmen Jack Hopkins and Hank Gotten were on the football team; Jim Stofer and Charlie Richardson were in the starting line-up on the soccer team; Charlie was also the swimming team's leading diver; Joe Budd Stevens ran cross-country; wrestling included Lee Armer and Nathan Claunch; volleyball coach and captain was Zeb Holbrook.

And we partied too. Our annual Sweetheart Ball topped the list of blasts but the regular university functions, house parties, and dizzy trips to Goshen and extemporaneous dating marathons filled out the remainder of the calendar.

So, you can easily see that Kappa Sig is the greatest. There's just no doubt about it.

(One bit of seriousness, however; our sincerest thanks must go to our new housemother, Mrs. Pace, for putting up with us for that hard, first year.)

The Gamma-Phi Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha celebrated the 35th anniversity of its founding on the W&L campus this past year.

Gamma-Phi started off the year with a bang as they pledged a total of 30 men following Rush Week. The group included boys representing 13 states and a large proportion of the class held scholarships.

Once more, a great many Lambda Chi's held positions of responsibility in campus activities. Joe Knakal served as a sports announcer for all of the VPI football games and was elected a member of Scabbard and Blade; Peyton Middleton produced and directed the radio show, "The W.&L. Glee Club Presents"; Bob Lowe was Assistant Managing Editor of the Friday Edition of the Ring-tum-Phi; Dave Poteet was Librarian of the Glee Club and played with the Southern Collegians; and Bob Shepherd was a member of the Student Library Committee, Co-Sports Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, and President of the Baptist Student Union. Lambda Chi's held six out of the top eight positions on the Debate Team with Jere Williams, Bob Shepherd, and Jim Threlkel holding down varsity spots.

In athletics, Dick Sherrington, Ashby Morton, and Jacque Dubois were on the varsity cross-country team; Al Gitter played varsity football; Karl Funkhouser, Ashby Morton, Dick Miller, and Peyton Middleton were on the rifle team. Also, Gus Glauser was on the swimming team; Mauricio Glauser was number one man on the tennis team; Al Gitter and Joe Knakal were on the baseball team; and Dennis Patton and Jim Wilkerson wrestled.

Social events were tops, with the First Annual Crescent Girl Dance being by far the major event. Other house parties of note were the Pajama Party and the French Apache Party.

The general scholastic picture looks very good indeed as five upperclassmen and thirteen freshmen held university scholarships. Tom Wieting, John White, and Robin Elder were holders of three of the first Lee Scholarships and Jim Phillips was on a Union Carbide scholarship to pace the freshmen. Intramurals were definitely on the upgrade and prospects were even brighter.

The 35th year of Lambda Chi Alpha on the Washington and Lee campus was indeed a momentous and memorable one.

Virginia Zeta of Phi Delta Theta was established at Washington and Lee in 1887, 39 years after Phi Delta Theta was founded at Oxford, Ohio in 1848. The present house was built in 1929 and with the invaluable assistance of Earl S. Mattingly, Secretary of the Board of Trustees and Treasurer of the University.

Virginia Zeta of Phi Delta Theta was very happy to welcome this year as their new house mother Mrs. Henry Eichelberger. Mrs. "Eich" as she has come to be called by the brothers, has been a great help to the house this year, and we hope to have many more pleasant years of association with her. Virginia Zeta wishes also to thank Dr. Harvey Wheeler, their faculty advisor, whose aid and assistance has proved invaluable.

The members of Phi Delta Theta have spread themselves throughout all phases of campus life and have proven themselves leaders in athletic, scholastic, and extra-curricular organizations. Our President, John Smith, is Vice-President of the Liberal Arts School, Secretary of the SWMSFC, and a member of the Sigma Society. On the Executive Committee Sage Lyons is the representative from the Junior Class and Bob Feagin is the representative from the Freshman Class. In the athletic department Virginia Zeta placed four men as captains of varsity sports. Alex Platt and Ike Smith were elected co-captains of the football team, Beldon Butterfield was captain of the soccer team, and Alex Platt was co-captain of the track team in the spring. Platt and Smith were also elected this year to Omicron Delta Kappa and to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." Platt was also chosen as president of the Fancy Dress Ball this year. In other activities, Charlie Kannapell is the president of the Sigma Society, and Ike Smith is a dormitory councilor. Sage Lyons and Tom Foltz are members of the SWMSFC. In the scholastic field, Irby Walton and Phil Turner are members of Phi Eta Sigma.

As for social activities the roller skating party, Fancy Dress, and the annual Hawaiian party will be long remembered. In all respects this year has been one of Virginia Zeta's most successful and as usual it can only be attributed to the full and willing co-operation of all the Brothers.

This year Delta Chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi has reached a land mark in its history—the building of a $70,000 Georgian home, the first new fraternity on the campus since the beginning of the Second World War.

This dream came true only as a result of the close co-operation among the school, our alumni, parents, and active members.

At a special banquet held during Parents' Weekend, special notice was given to three members who had devoted almost an entire year to the project. Cited were Andy Greenman, '56; Elliot Schewel; and Donald Luria, '57.

We would also like to express our gratitude to "Mom" Flournoy, who has been with us many years, for her warm interest in the house.

Delta chapter continues to maintain its high scholastic and extra-curricular activities, and was presented with an activities award at its national convention for the second consecutive year.

Luria, Steve Berg, Elliott Joffee, and Howie Jacobs lead the way among Phi Ep's outstanding men on campus.

Don served as Superior during his Junior year and served last year as treasurer and this year as president of the I.F.C. He was elected this year to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" and is a member of the Student Advisory Council. He has also been active on the Student Library Committee, and the Assimilation Committee.

Steve Berg, our capable Superior, has been especially interested in the publications and in the Christian Council. At present he is News Editor of the Ring-tum Phi and Pubilicity Director for the Christian Council. Steve has participated in inter-colegate baseball and football, the Minstrel Show, and the Mock Convention.

Elliott Joffe, our Vice-Superior is the Business Manager of the Southern Collegian and Shenandoah and of the Publications Board. He has been a member of the Student Library Committee for two years, and is now serving as Secretary of the Committee.

Rising Senior Howie Jacobs was Chairman of the most successful Blood Drive ever held on this campus, and has served as Freshman Camp Counselor and Assistant Publicity Director for the Christian Council.

Steve Nachman, a member of the commerce fraternity and Scabbard and Blade, has had a major part in the Minstrel Show for two years.

Outstanding campus athlete, Barry Storick has been captain of the school bsketball team for two years, and has been active in fraternity affairs.

Our Sophomore class is well represented with Joel Kocen, Phi Eta Sigma; Ron Rubin, Freshman E. C., sports writer All Schlessinger.

Freshmen Dick Tager, Dave Goller, and Harvey Levine also write for the Ring-tum Phi, while basketball starter Mal Lassman, and wrestlers Allon Biberman and Harvey Levine add their participation to campus athletics.

Phi Gamma Delta was founded at Washington and Jefferson College in 1848. In over a century of progress, the fraternity has grown to be a mainstay in the American fraternity system . . . eighty-three chapters, eighty graduate chapters, and over 57,000 members give proof to her position.

In their nineteenth year on the Washington and Lee campus, the members of Zeta Deuteron Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta continued to maintain the high standard of fraternity brotherhood as formulated by its founders. The present house at 112 Preston Street, one of the most beautiful on campus, is cherished by all Fijis and is a center of campus activity.

This year's officers were Bill Shorpshire, Jim Thompson, Joe Dickson, John Budd and Bob Curran; they were important in maintaining the high standards with which we are accustomed. This year Bill Shropshire was elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities as was Hardin Marion; Bill was also initiated to Omicron Delta Kappa and served as president of the Glee Club. Jack Daughtrey not only again participated in the three major varsity sports but was a standout in his own right; he was nominated as Southern Conference Player of the Week, the first player in the new general athetic policy. Bill Burns was chairman of the Independent Party and vice-president of Fancy Dress. Carl Barnes served capably as photography editor of the Southern Collegian. Hardin Marion, Larry Smail, and John Alford were elected to class officers. Marion also served as Head Dorm Counselor and Alford was elected co-captain of the baseball team.

This year was once again a social success due to the efforts of Kaj Brent, the social chairman; the highlights of the year were a Champaigne Party and, naturally, Fiji Island. Intramurals, under the direction of Jack Elliott, were again successful besides being the source of much relaxation and enjoyment for the brothers. The pledge class this year was one of the largest ever in potential and most gratifying in number; much of the credit for this is given to Sonny Fenstermacher, our Rush Chairman.

Thus the Fijis of Zeta Deuteron have progressed through 1956-57; this outstanding ear we feel, coud not have come about without the patience and fidelity of Mrs. Virginia Smith, our devoted house mother.

Bob Miller, secretary-treasurer of the student body, president of the Christian Council, co-captain of the varsity wrestling team, and senior ODK initiate, will this year complete four years of outstanding service to the University.

The University Dance Board has felt the influence of John Sinwel's efficient management. Nick Charles, Joe Craycroft, and Kim Wood have found their interests in working for the Ring-tum Phi. John Peale is active in the Christian Council, heading its freshman work, besides being a freshman dormitory counselor, and captain of the varsity tennis team. Jerry Miller this year was leader of the University octet, the "Sazeracs." Cal Couch has found his spot playing in center field for the baseball team. Tom Martin Nick Charles, and Ned Pendleton play on the varsity lacrosse team. Ace Hubbard and Kim Wood last year started on the varsity tennis team at positions five and six. Tom Broadus is on the varsity swimming team. Dick Newberg pitched last year for the varsity baseball team. Brad Gooch, who has made a tremendous contribution to W&L singing, is manager of the Glee Club.

This year Phi Psi pledged a freshman class of seventeen to whom we look for leadership and high character so that our tradition may be carried on after us. In this matter and in all other matters concerning Phi Psi, no one deals for efficiently or more understandingly than our housemother Mrs. Carrol Evans, now serving her fifth year with us, for she has completely won our love and respect.

Phi Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Pennsylvania in 1850 and was introduced to Washington and Lee University in 1894.

Prior to rush week this year the house was completely repainted on the inside, a fire escape was added, and extensive repairs were made on the exterior. In addition, our basement lounge was completely revarnished and a new high-fidelity record player was installed.

Phi Kaps have distinguished themselves in every activity on the compus, and in the past year they attained several major honors in outside activities: Joe Amato was president of the Senior class of 1957; and Jack Mason was historian of this graduating class. Larry Topping was president of the Freshman Law School class, and three other boys were members of the Student Bar Association. Four of the top five officers of the Forensic Union were Phi Kaps; Tom Akin was a mainstay writer of the Southern Collegian, Charlie McCormick was a member of SWMSFC; several brothers sang with the school glee club and Tony Weeks was a glee club officer and member of the Sazeracs; and Charlie Davis and Colin Campbell were International Relations Club officers. In inter-collegiate athetics Phi Kaps were even more conspicuousy represented. Alex Baxter and Warren Nuessle were varsity soccer players, Lee Marshall was all-State and all-Conference as captain of the basketball team, Charlie McCormick and Scotty Russell were on the golf team, Amato, Buddy Dey, and Nuessle payed baseball, and Dave Semler played varsity football. We were also very successful in intramurals, winning two team championships. K. K. Hill, Charlie Toomey, and Pres Beall were managers of the wrestling, basketball, and lacrosse teams, respectively.

On the lighter side outstanding parties were the Homecomings and Parents Day cocktail parties and the "Dogpatch" Christmas party.

We feel that our successful year has been due mostly to the spirit of friendly cooperation which exists among us. We are also deeply indebted to our housemother Mrs. John Cogbill and our faculty advisor Dr. L. J. Desha who was a Phi Kap here in the class of 1906. They have both been untiring in their support, assistance, and patience.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was founded in 1868 at the University of Virginia in a country torn by a conflict and faced by the task of reconstruction. The fraternity has grown in number until today it includes 114 chapters throughout the nation. Pi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, was founded here in 1892.

Leadership has become a tradition with Pi chapter. The 1956-57 year saw its members continuing this tradition throughout the various campus activities. President John Arnold, who served as Executive Committeeman, Freshman Camp Councilor, and Secretary of the Christian Council, was selected for ODK and "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Mark Davis was Assistant Head Dormitory Councilor, and Historian of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity. Serving as Chairman of the Library Committee and member of the Executive Committee of the Christian Council, was Charles Swezy. George Gee, a Distinguished Military Student, was elected to Scabbard and Blade, while Barclay Smith was Secretary of the commerce fraternity, Beta Gamma Sigma. Royce Hough, Outstanding Freshman of 1955-56, was on the SWMSFC. Charles Spenser was the Circulation Manager for the Ring-tum Phi.

In sports Barclay Smith played his third season as one of the "Five Star" Generals. Lou Aliotti was co-captain of the varsity swimming team, which was dominated by PiKA's. Bill Morris teamed with Aliotti in the 1955-56 season to make up half of the medley team which lowered the school record by three seconds. The team also included freshman Skip Rohnke, who seems destined to break existing school records, classmate Skip Israel and junior Ed Hempstead. Johnson Arnold captained the cross country team on which two-year letterman Bob Kane was a stalwart. Freshman Dave Pitard on the varsity and Tim Ireland were regulars on the freshman basketball team. Gene Keith and Rohnke held down the halfback and fullback spots respectively on the soccer team which posted its best record in school history. In the spring, brothers Sawers and Russell played lacrosse while Arnold, Root, Rohnke, and Keith were on the track.

Variety characterized the year's social events. Parties ranged from Cave Mountain Lake outings to the Dog Patch party, and from Funston's cool sounds to the beat of the Rocking Riffs. One of the year's highlights was the formal PiKA ball where Joyce Crawford, Pi's representative, was chosen the State Dream Girl.

Much of Pi's success was directly attributable to the enthusiasm and understanding of our housemother, Mrs. Sara Woodbury. As a companion and a charming hostess, she has, in her first year, already added much to fraternity life.

Founded at the College of Charleston, Charleston, S.C., in 1904, Pi Kappa Phi is a relatively young national fraternity. As such, it contains youthful vigor as evidenced by its nation-wide growth to nearly 60 chapters, and by the growth of Rho Chapter, established at W&L in February of 1920. Rho Chapter has grown from a small beginning, and today is among the larger houses on campus, having always played an active role in campus activities. In recent years Rho Chapter has attained many outstanding accomplishments, winning the scholarship twice in a single year, and having the President of the Student Body, the Head Dormitory Councilor, and the editors of the Ring-tum Phi, The Law Review and The Southern Collegian.

Rho Chapter has men in all phases of campus activities. Some of this year's outstanding members include Dick Anderson, editor of the Friday Edition of the Ring-tum Phi, member of ODK, vice-president of Sigma Delta Chi, president of the International Relations Club; Ken Starling, vice-president of Science School, secretary of AED, past Historian of Junior Class; "Doc" Elliot, president of Sigma Delta Chi, editor-in-chief of Home Edition; John Marsh, president of Pi Sigma Alpha, secretary of Cold Check Committee; Bob Stroud, assistant Head Dormitory Councilor, staff of the Law Review, Freshman Camp Councilor; Norm Proulx, feature editor of the Friday Edition of the Ring-tum Phi, Phi Eta Sigma, Commerce Fraternity, Psi Chi; Fred Ramsey, president of the Concert Guild; and Bill Lowffler, Freshman cross country star. This year's pledge class promises to carry on in the future Rho's goal of producing campus leaders in scholarship, activities, and athletics.

The past year saw such memorable events as the winning of the Homecoming decorations contest, the annual Rose Ball and the selection of our Rose Queen, and the fall costume party. The success of these and many other events has been aided by our House Mother, Miss Helen Gardner, to whom we owe a debt of deep gratitude for her understanding and encouragement through the year.

The Pi Kap brotherhood has always been a closely knit group; one which seek fraternal, spirit, intellectual eminence, and social prominence. It has lived through the years, expanding and accumulating vitality.

In March, 1856, the University of Alabama had the privilege of fostering a new fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The fraternity was organized by Noble Leslie DeVotie and seven very close friends. In 1867, Washington and Lee's chapter of Virginia Sigma was founded by a Mississippi transfer student, Frank Bell Webb.

Now one hundred years have passed since the founding of the fraternity, and during that time Sigma Alpha Epsilon has built up one of the strongest and most respected national reputations in the fraternal league. Virginia Sigma has upheld and added to that reputation and for many years has contributed leaders and participants in all fields to the W&L campus.

To illustrate this is an easy matter for the 1956-57 session of Virginia Sigma, for we see that in the realms of student government Rob Peeples stands as President of the Student Body and Merrill Plaisted, as Chairman of the Assimilation Committee. Merrill also is Secretary of the Publications Board and past President of the Mongolian Minks. Gill Holland holds the position of president of the Junior class, while Bob Fleming is honored by being the secretary of the Sophomore class. Two of the brothers were chosen for "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," Rob Peeples and Merrill Plaisted; Rob Peeples was selected for Omicron Delta Kappa.

In sports Richard Raines is a member of the varsity swimming team; Burr Miller and Sammy Knowlton are on the soccer team; Gill Holland is on the wrestling team, and Don Farris was on last year's golf team. Don is also on the football team, as are Jim Duckett, Neil Bland, and Harry Heinithsh. Last year the house placed third in the intramural competition and has excellent participation again this year.

In the other activities Jim Davis is on the rifle team and is also a Distinguished Military Student along with Rob Peeples and Warren Goodwyn. When Tom Smth is included with this trio, we have Virginia Sigma's members of Scabbard and Blade.

SAE received one of the strongest pledge classes on campus in the 1956 Rush Week and with them passed an entertaining and profitable year.

The Fraternity wishes to thank Mrs. Felde Wagner, our House Mother, and Doctors Starling and Cook, our faculty advisors, for all the aid and guidance they have offered us in the past.

Alpha Chapter of Sigma Chi was established on June 28, 1855, at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. The Fraternity has grown until it now embraces 127 active chapters and 70,000 living brothers. With Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi forms the famed Miami Triad. The chapter has 60 active members and pledges.

The chapter illustrated its capabilities in initiating the new school year by pledging 17 carefully-selected freshmen during Rush Week. During the past school year, the men of Sigma Chi have met with added success and good fortune. This can be attributed in part to a very popular and charming house mother—our Mrs. "Ma" Nielson and Dr. Kenneth P. Stevens, faculty advisor and friend.

Today as always, the Sigs have gained distinction in every phase of campus life—athletics, social, scholarship, and extra-curricular. Representatives from our chapter can be found in almost every sport. Fall saw Pres Pate, Pat Reilly, Bill Wright, Paul Knox, Wat Watring, Bill Acquavella, and Jim Dazey displaying their abilities on the gridiron. Don Morine, Charlie Crocker, and Pete Haffenraffer played soccer; Chuck Springer and Tom Williams swam; John Hollister, Butch House, and Mike Winston were on the wrestling team. Last year many Sigs exhibited their talents with the spring teams as is expected again this year, with Dick Belden and Pate leading the way as co-captains of baseball and track, respectively. Sigma Chi has won the Intramurals Chapmionship and the over-all Athletic Championship Award for the last two years.

Many Zeta Sigs have taken active parts in the leadership phase of campus life. Pat Sullivan was on the Moot Court Team; Phil Campbell was business manager of the Ring-tum Phi; Mike Garner was president of the "13" Club; Pate was treasurer of Scabbard and Blade ;Hollister was on the SWMSFC, a dorm counselor, and vice-president of the Graham-Lee Literary Society; Buddy Mower was on the Assimilation Committee and vice-president of Opening Dances. Tom Branch, Bill Martin, Bob Moeller, Chris Rehlen, and Watring were in the SAZERACS. Evan Kemp represented the Sophomore Class on the Executive Committee, the student governing organization.

Social events which will long be remembered were the Monte Carlo Party and the famed Sweetheart Dance.

Sigma Nu was founded at Virginia Military Institute in 1869 and has since grown to be one of the largest national fraternities in the country. The Lambda chapter was founded at W&L in 1882.

Among the campus leaders in this chapter are: Carl Swanson, who was Chairman of the 1956 Democrtaic Mock Convention, member of the Assimilation Committee, President of Pi Sigma Alpha, member of Omicron Delta Kappa, member of the "13" Club, and was listed in the 1956-57 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities;" Fred Magoline, president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, member of SWMSFC, and frequently on the Honor Roll; Bob Neunreiter, Art Editor of the Southern Collegian and vice-president of Fancy Dress; Sam Monroe, president of Spring Dances and member of the "13" Club; Mike Chaney, past Junior Executive Committeeman, Dormitory and Freshman Camp Counselor, and was also listed in the 1956-57 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Sigma Nu has also contributed to the University's intercollegiate sports program. Bob Neunreiter, a member of the wrestling team, last year grappled his way to second place in the 123-pound class in the Southern Conference Championships. Also wrestling were Ben Noel and Jodie Mahony. Steve Coates was on the coss country team and was elected Captain of next year's harriers. Contributing their grid talents to the Generals last fall were Dan Giger and John Koedel. John Betts and Bob Davidson were active on the W&L swimming team.

In intramurals for the past few years, Sigma Nu has also been in the top third of the campus fraternities and has been handball champion for two consecutive years.

The year's social program got off to a good start with an Alpine Party at which members dressed in the traditional mountain climbing costume. The White Rose formal, a tradition at all Sigma Nu chapters, was held in the early Spring with music provided by the V.M.I. Commanders. Later in the Spring, the Sigma Nu's honored Sam Monroe, president of Spring Dances, with the customary campus-wide cocktail party.

We at Lambda chapter have been especially fortunate in having Mrs. C. A. Spence as our House Mother. She has been here for eleven years and during this time has been an integral part of all our activities, as well as a helpful advisor.

Zeta Beta Tau had its beginnings on the Washington and Lee campus in 1920 as an outgrowth of the Gamma Gamma Club which was formed in 1919 by six students. Granted a charter by the national fraternity, it became the Alpha Epsilon chapter. From this humble beginning the chapter has expanded notably in size and prestige.

As exemplified in this and the preceding years, ZBT has striven to attain and maintain unexcelled participation in the scholastic, extracurricular, and social phases of campus life. The installation of fifteen freshmen, bringing the total membership of the Alpha Epsilon to fifty-five, inaugurated the fraternity's successful year.

Individually, Zeta Beta Tau can boast of outstanding leaders representing every activity on campus. Larry Atler and Bill Abeloff were listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." The former is president of the Publications Board and the Student Service Society, while the latter heads Final Dances and edits Calyx. In addition, Warner Isaacs is Business Manager of the Calyx, and Sam Bendheim, Loren Mintz, and Stan Erdreich, and Buddy Kullman hold the presidencies of the Commerce Fraternity, Psi Chi, Mongolian Minks, and W&L Band in that order.

Active elsewhere are Jerry Abramson, Head Cheerleader; John Garson, Commerce vice-president of the Senior class; Gerry Portner, R.O.T.C. company commander, and Ross Pickus, historian of the Junior class.

Alpha Epsilon is perennially a leading contender for scholastic honors, placing no less than third for the last five semesters; last semester ten members attained Dean's List status. Athletically, the Zebes have been equally successful. While the football and golf squads tied and won their leagues, respectively, the ping-pong and softball aggregations will be out to defend their campus championships. Ira Samelson, on the gridiron, and John Gold and Alan Osher, in the swimming pool, have all earned double varsity letters. The Homecomings display, although grabbing a third place, couldn't match the winning ZBT entry of last year.

Alpha Epsilon is deeply indebted to Mrs. Lenoy Marsh, our patient housemother, whose tolerance, understanding, tea, and sympathy have contributed immeasurably to our home away from home.

FOOTBALL SEASON

When the Washington and Lee Generals began practice for the 1956 season they had behind them a seven game losing streak inherited from the 1955 squad, with little hope for improvement as graduation took six starters away. Replacements were needed at end, guard, center, and at one half back. For the opening game Coach Bill Chipley and his staff had his front liners pretty well settled. At end he had two dependable juniors, Phil Brown and Jim Lewis. Randy Creel became Co-Captain Ike Smith's running mate at tackle. Two junior lettermen, Fred Heina and Ira Samelson, were at the guard slots and Rodger Doyle was shifted from quarterback to center to round the line. In the backfield, Jack Daughtrey was ready for his first full season of signal calling, Co-Captain Alex Platt was at fullback, and at the halfs were Pres Pate and Corky Briscoe. This lineup saw more than its share of action during the year with results following the same pattern as the previous year, but steady improvement could be seen as the losing streak was cut at 12 with some near-misses coming before.

The season opened on October 6, with the Generals traveling to Danville, Kentucky for a game with the Centre Colonels. This was the same team, who the previous year had started the club on its losing streak. The game was a tough defensive battle for the first three quarters, with Centre taking advantage of the costly first-game errors for a second-period safety. This is the way it stood until Corkey Briscoe returned a third-period punt ninety-two yards for the first score of the year. The team then settled back to wage a defensive stand but couldn't ward off the fleet Centre halfbacks who broke through for two last period touchdowns and a 14-6 victory. The team showed well in spots but couldn't muster a sustained drive.

Coaches Harrington, Williams, and Chipley.

On October 13, the Davidson Wildcats came to Lexington for what was probably the last engagement for several years to come. The 48-6 loss had to be taken on the chin, for Davidson was enjoying one of their finest seasons in history. The Wildcats wasted little time in deciding the issue, as they jumped off to a 13-0 lead in the first six minutes to play. The Generals fought back as Alex Platt took the kickoff after the second score and streaked sixty-seven yards to the Wildcat twenty-three, before being pulled down from behind. Six plays later Platt dove over from the three for the General's lone marker. Davidson added twenty-one points in the second quarter to take a 34-6 lead to the locker room. They then added single markers in each of the last two periods. The team was playing at a handicap from the start as it was without the services of quarterback Jack Daughtrey who received a head injury two days before the game. The quarterback slot was ably filled by sophomore Bill Wright and freshman Dick Aberson.

The following week the team traveled to Memphis Tennessee, where it absorbed an unexpected defeat at the hands of the Southwestern Lynx, who delighted a Homecoming and TV crowd with its 42-0 victory. The Generals took the opening kickoff and drove to Southwestern's twenty-two yard line before being thrown back. This short sparkle proved to be the only bright spot of the day, as the outcome was decided after only ten minutes of play when, the Lynx scored their first TD. They scored three more during the second period and then added a pair in the third quarter. Every point after the touchdown was perfect, as the Lynx had without a doubt turned in their best performance of the year. This poor effort on behalf of the team seemed to mark the turning point of the season.

The fourth game of the season found the Generals in Montgomery, West Virginia, being entertained by the West Virginia Tech Bears in a Homecoming battle played on a rain soaked field. The Bears were able to come from behind three times to squeeze out a 21-20 victory for the hometown crowd, which had turned out enmasse. This game marked the first offensive output for the Generals as they picked up almost as much yardage in this one game as they had picked up in the three previous games.

W&L scored first on a seventy-two yard drive after receiving the opening kickoff. Quarterback Jack Daughtrey ran for the touchdown from the three and Tom Moore's kick made it 7-0 in favor of the visitors. Tech scored on the next kickoff moving sixty yards to tie the score at 7-7. Tackle Ike Smith recovered a Tech fumble on the Bears' twenty-seven on the last play of the first period to set up the second TD. After punching to the sixteen, Daughtrey took it over from there for the score. Moore's kick was again good. Tech came back to make it 14-14 at halftime on a sixty-six yard drive.

The Generals came out confident after the intermission and quickly broke the tie when Daughtrey connected on a thirty-six yard TD pass to Pres Pate. Moore's first placement was good but it was nullified by an offside penalty aaginst both squads. His second kick was low. Tech then moved fifty yards during the last period for their winning score. The Generals' offense long a sore spot, moved at will even in the mud, but the pass defense couldn't stop the sharp attack thrown at it by the Bear quarterbacks.

The Generals gained much needed confidence from their performance against the Bears and they began practice for the remainder of the season with a newly instilled spirit. They opened November by journeying to Crawfordsville, Indiana, with hope of knocking off a tough Wabash team, which the week before had ended the winning streak of Butler University, a top small college power.

It was Dad's Day at Wabash and a packed house on a hot November day had much to yell about as the Little Giants rolled to a 34-0 victory. The game was much closer than the score would indicate and Coach Chipley points to three "ridiculous" errors which put his team in a hole, and spotted the Little Giants a three touchdown first-half lead.

Wabash received the opening kickoff and after an exchange of punts they were in position at mid-field. After holding for two downs the General's middle relaxed and a Little Giant blasted through and was finally hauled down on the Generals' eleven. From there Wabash cracked over in three plays and had a 7-0 lead. To this they added 14 points in the second period and thirteen more in the last.

W&L moved well between the twenty-yard stripes but when they came closer the Wabash defense was up for the occasion. Their only threat came close to half time when quarterback Dick Aberson completed a twenty-seven yard pass to halfback Corkey Briscoe and another immediately to end Tom Moore to move the ball to the Wabash nineteen. However the clock ran out with the Generals still there. The Generals tightened their defense in the third quarter but still couldn't get rolling as neither club got into the other's territory. Even in defeat this game proved much to the club as at times they played on even terms with a team that had proved itself in past games.

Wilson Field was full of mud for the Generals' last home game of the season, but this wasn't enough to stop a fleet set of Hampden-Sydney backs. As usual the Generals were able to move in spots, but they weren't able to put together a sustained drive or break loose for a score. Several times fullbacks Alex Platt and Tudor Hall led drives deep into H-S territory, only to be stopped by fumbles.

Platt hurdles the Sewanee line

Hampden-Sydney only had two big plays but these were enough for two touchdowns and a 12-0 win. The first score came on a nineteen-yard run in the second period and the other rally came on a sixty-seven yard run in the third period. Besides these two big plays the teams played on even terms.

The season ended with the Generals in St. Louis for a Turkey-Day game with the Washington U. Bruins. The team had little to celebrate as their quick lead was overcome after two periods. Daughtrey directed the first period surge, and a sixty-eight yard scoring march to put the Generals ahead 6-0. He passed the last thirty-three yards to end Phil Brown. Ike Smith pounced on a Bruin fumble a few minutes later on the home team's twenty-eight. Alex Platt then blasted 22 yards and Pres Pate made three to set up Daughtrey's plunge over tackle for the second TD. Tom Moore added the extra point to move the Generals out in front 13-0. Washington dented the scoring column late in the half on an eighteen-yard pass to end the half with the score 13-7. The Bears scored first in the second half moving fifty yards in six plays. They then added three more in the fourth quarter before Daughtrey returned a kickoff eighty yards to make it 34-19. The Bears then moved seventy yards in ten plays to round out the scoring for the day.

Briscoe reaches for a long one

There was one bright spot in the season for W&L and this came on November 10, when the Sewanee Tigers came to town for the Homecoming game. The last time these two teams met it was Homecoming at Sewanee and Tigers were riding the crest of a fifteen game losing streak. The Generals proved to be a welcome foe as they bowed 12-0. Now it was time for the form to be reversed.

W&L meant business from the start and team was never behind, although the visiting Tigers tied the count at 7-7 in the second quarter and were scratching at the goal line when the first half ended with W&L in front 9-7. Even in the second half, Sewanee kept the pressure on by alternating their offense between the "T" and the single-wing, but fumbles and a timely pass interception by the Generals turned the tide.

The Generals moved for their first tally after tackle Randy Creel nailed down the elusive ball on the Tiger thirty-six. Six plays later the Generals scored with the payoff a nine-yard pass from Daughtrey to end Jim Lewis who made a circus catch for the touchdown. Tom Moore's placement was good. Sewanee scored late in the period after trapping Daughtrey on the W&L twenty-five while attempting to punt. The Generals regained the lead with four minutes remaining in the half when Daughtrey's punt was touched by the Tiger safety man and then rolled into the end zone. He was then smothered under by Ike Smith and Glen Watring as he tried to run it out.

In the second period, the Generals marched forty-eight yards for a score, with Platt bulling over from the two. The Generals added their clincher with 3:40 remaining in the game, when center Rodger Doyle picked off a Sewanee pass and returned it forty-five yards for the score. Moore's placement was good.

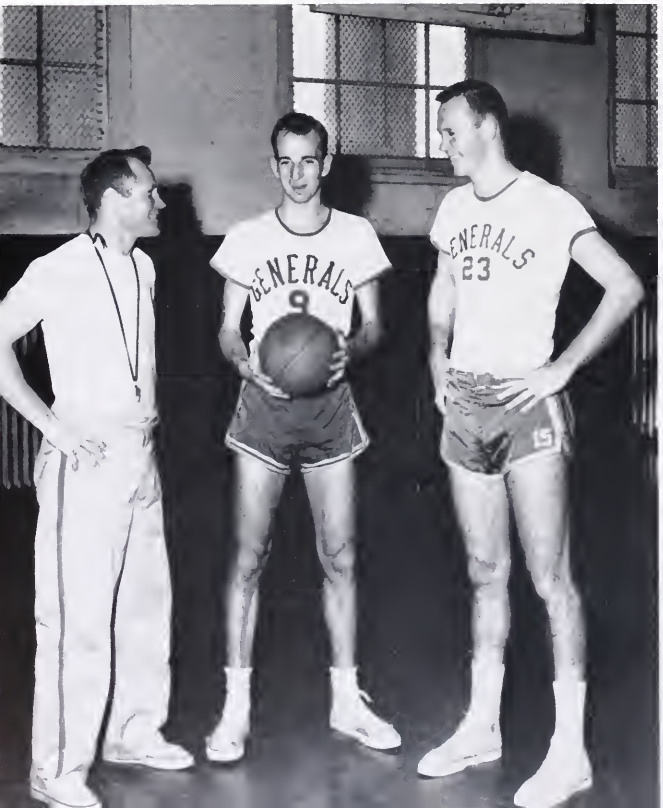
BASKETBALL SEASON

Coach McCann and Co-Captains Storick and Marshall.



Washington and Lee's "Five Star" Generals led by Co-captains Lee Marshall and Barry Storick, and coached by Billy McCann, compiled a 20 and 7 record in the 1956-57 season. This was the greatest number of wins ever achieved by a W&L basketball team. Not only did the Blue and White compile this fine record, but they finished second in the Big-Six competition as well as second in both the Southern Conference tournament and regular league play.

The Generals opened their season by traveling down to Lexington where they met a nationally ranked Kentucky five. The hot shooting Wildcats defeated the Blue and White by a 94 to 66 count. The lone bright spot for the team was the play of center Lee Marshall who scored 30 points. Coach McCann's five then returned to Virginia and bounced back to defeat Sidney 98 to 53 and William and Mary 79 to 72. W&L's one-two punch of Lee Marshall and Dom Flora scored 19 and 18 points to lead the team against the Tigers. Marshall was also high man in the William and Mary game with 31 points, and he was strongly supported by hard-driving Storick who scored 21.

For their next start the Generals drove down to Fayetteville where they met nationally ranked West Virginia. "Hot Rod" Hundley lived up to his press ratings by netting 28 points to lead the Mountaineers to a 90-76 decision. Washington and Lee, which trailed by three points at the half, had roared back to take the lead behind the fine shooting of Flora, 23 points, and Marshall, 20 points, but West Virginia's strength finally wore down the Generals. Once again the team returned home to start on a winning streak as they beat Richmond, Virginia, and George Washington, in some of the most exciting basketball of the season.

The Richmond game saw the Generals leading comfortably by 10 points with one minute to go, only to have the Spiders storm back to send the game into overtime. In the overtime the Blue and White came fighting back to finally win the game 86 to 82 behind the clutch play of substitute Phil Palmer. Marshall and Storick led the team with 23 and 22 points, respectively. The "Five Star" Generals handed Virginia a thorough trouncing. Leading all the way, they eventually beat the Wahoos by a 76 to 62 score. Flora, hitting on his drives, led all the scorers with 28 points. In their last game before Christmas vacation, the team defeated George Washington 64 to 63 in their finest clutch victory of the season. Checked by a tight zone and hurt by Flora's early fouling out, the Generals trailed the Colonials by three points with only 30 seconds remaining, and with GW in possession of the ball. Two steals and two Marshall hook shots later, the Blue and White had pulled the game out of the fire. Marshall poured 30 points through the cords to lead all scorers.

During Christmas Vacation the "Five Star" Generals traveled over to Richmond to appear in the Invitational Tournament. The team provided fans with the upset of the tournament by defeating top-seeded Columbia by a 69 to 65 score. Even the hot shooting of Chet "The Jet" Forte, who scored 27 points, could not check the Generals who were led by Marshall's 28 point sharpshooting. In the second round, W&L met defeat at the hands of the eventual tournament champion, Lefayette, 73 to 69. In this game, the team, led by Flora's sharpshooting (36 points) stormed back from a 40 to 28 halftime deficit to tie the game up only to lose in the closing seconds. In the consolation round the Generals defeated Pennsylvania, 76 to 68, to salvage third place in the tournament. Once again it was the one-two punch of Marshall and Flora that was the difference as they scored 23 and 22 poinnts, respectively.

On January 8 the team returned to regular season action by defeating the Citadel in a loosely played ball game 72 to 69. Marshall, hitting on a variety of shots, was high man with 35 points, and Frank Hoss, the General's leading rebounder, chipped in with 14 markers. W&L next embarassed Presbyterian by the top-heavy score of 86 to 65. Flora was the top scorer with 27 points; Storick, Marshall, and Smith all hit for double figures. The team next met George Washington at Doremus Gymnasium and defeated the Colonials decisively 84 to 57. Flora, hot on his jump shot, led both teams with 32 points. Coach McCann's Generals kept their winning streak going by thrashing Johns Hopkins 88 to 69 in Baltimore. The Marshall-Flora combination hit for 32 and 24 points respectively.

The red-hot W&L five continued on their winning ways as they defeated Davidson and the Citadel on their trip down into the Carolinas. Marshall led the team to their 89 to 70 victory over Davidson by putting on a brilliant shooting exhibition. Hitting on long hook shots from all over the court, he poured in 40 points. The Generals employed a strong balanced attack to defeat the Citadel 74 to 58. All five starters hit for double figures with Barclay Smith leading the way with 20 points. Traveling to Blacksburg, the team saw its seven game winning streak broken by Virginia Tech's ball controlling team, 66 to 56.

Returning to the friendly confines of Doremus Gym, the Blue and White defeated a strong Kentucky Wesleyan team 73 to 70. Marshall had another of his red-hot nights scoring 37 points to lead both teams. W&L fans were hopeful as the Generals met Virginia Tech again, for a victory here would virtually have meant the Big-Six championship, but the VPI hex continued as the slow-it-up Gobblers defeated the team 54 to 46. Flying up to Philadelphia, W&L met Villanova for their third game in five days. The result was a heartbreaking 70 to 69 overtime defeat. Trailing by a considerable margin in the closing minutes, the Generals reared back to tie the game with Flora hitting a jump shot in the last 2 seconds. The overtime saw Storick's foul shot put the team into the lead with only seconds remaining, but a Villanova field-goal in the last ten seconds won the game.

From Philadelphia the weary Generals traveled to Williamsburg to meet William and Mary in a return match. W&L won this one easily by an 80 to 58 count. Storick and Hoss were high scorers as they each had 22 points; each also had 15 rebounds.

The Blue and White next met a fired-up Richmond five at the Arena and played one of their finest games to win 77 to 68. Flora, Storick, Hoss, and Marshall all hit for double figures to defeat the Spiders; Flora was high man in the game with 20 points. Having regained their winning stride, the team continued their victory string by defeating Davidson at Doremus Gym 62 to 53. Once more the one-two punch of Flora and Marshall was outstanding as they hit for 24 and 21 points. The rebounding of Frank Hoss was also a strong factor in this victory.

Flora shoots as Smith and Storick close in.

The University of Virginia, a vastly improved ball club, were next to come to Lexington hoping to avenge their earlier defeat by Washington and Lee. Once again the "Five Star" Generals were too much for the Wahoos as they won 73 to 69 before a wildly cheering crowd at Doremus Gymnasium. Playing their last game of the regular season, seniors Marshall, Storick, and Smith received a standing ovation as they left the court with only seconds remaining. It was fitting that this last home game should be a real team victory. Marshall, Flora and Hoss scored 25, 22, and 17 points, respectively; the rebounding and defensive play of Storick and Smith were outstanding. Marshall's 25 points gave him the State Scoring Crown as he finished the season with a better than 22 point average. The victory over Virginia left the Generals with an 18 and 6 record in regular play.

With their regular season completed, the team went to Richmond to compete in the Southern Conference Tournament. In the opening round against the Citadel the Generals jumped off to an early lead and were never headed as they won handily 85 to 62. Flora and Marshall were high with 27 and 22 points, and Storick and Smith also chipped in with double figures. In the semi-finals, W&L was rated as an underdog as it met Virginia Tech, its "jinx" team during the regular season. In one of the closest games of the tournament, the teams traded baskets until late in the game when the Generals broke loose and ran away from VPI. This 68 to 54 victory was a particularly sweet one for the Blue and White as it avenged its two earlier defeats to the Gobblers. Flora led four W&L players in double figures with 24 points, but it was the inspired defensive play and rebounding of Marshall that was the key to this victory. Washington and Lee met West Virginia in the finals of the tournament in what proved to be a very close game until the closing minutes. Behind the hot shooting of Flora and Marshall and the strong rebounding of Hoss, the Blue and White led at the half 30 to 28. The second half story proved to be too much "Hot Rod," as the Mountaineer's fast break combined with Hundley's shooting and Sharrar's rebounding won the ball game 67 to 52.

During the halftime of a tournament preliminary game, it was announced that Lee Marshall had been chosen as the outstanding big-college player in the State of Virginia. This award climaxed a great season for Lee; a season in which he was chosen co-captain of the All Big-Six team, picked for the All-Southern Conference regular season and tournament first teams, and elected to honorable mention All-American. Marshall was the General's Co-captain, the state's leading scorer, and he was picked as the team's most valuable player. During his career at Washington and Lee he scored 1561 points.

Senior Co-captain Barry Storick has often been called the most underrated player on the team. This year he led the Blue and White in field-goal percentage and was the second highest rebounder on the squad. Generally the man chosen to guard the other team's top scorer, Storick's scrap and hustle have been a spark to the team for three years.

Senior Barclay Smith is another greatly underrated member of this team. Smith was the second highest field-goal percentage shooter and foul shooter on the team, and his defensive play was a factor in several General victories. Not a consistently high scorer, Smith won several games for the team with clutch shooting.

Junior Dom Flora is one of the reasons that Washington and Lee fans cannot be too pessimistic about next year. Flora was chosen Co-captain of the Big-Six team, and picked for the Southern Conference All-Star and All-Tournament teams. The team's second highest scorer this year with a 19 point average, Flora has scored over 1600 points in his career at Washington and Lee. This season his hustle and passing marked him as a vastly improved ball player.

The fifth of the Five Star Generals, and their other big hope for next year, is Junior Frank Hoss. Averaging a little under 10 points a game, Hoss was the team's leading rebounder. His defensive play and his improved scoring toward the end of the season mark him as a definite threat for next year. Frank was chosen to the second team All-Southern Conference Team.

The 1956-1957 season was a particularly gratifying one to Coach Billy McCann who was able to prove what his boys could do when not plagued with injuries. Congratulations to the whole team for a wonderful season. This team will not be forgotten as long as basketballs bounce in Doremus Gymnasium.

WRESTLING

Miller takes his man down

Washington and Lee's wrestling team ended the 1956-57 season with three wins, six losses and one tie. Coach Dick Miller's young team turned in a fine performance in the Southern Conference tourney and, losing only two men through graduation, will be a real threat in the state next year.

The club started off with a 12-12 tie with a vastly improved North Carolina squad. Following the tie with the Tar Heels the Blue and White traveled to Pennsylvania for a tough weekend, dropping a hard fought match to Millersville, 23-3; and the next night losing to one of the East's power teams, Franklin and Marshall, 34-0. The Cavaliers from Charlottesville nipped the Generals the next week in a close one, 15-17. Virginia was held from victory till the last match when heavy weight Henry Jordan, ACC champ, finally turned back John Hollister in the last seconds.

The grapplers hit the victory trail with a resounding 25-3 smash of Galluadet but were tipped by mighty V.P.I. in the next meet 33-3. The Blue rebounded to defeat another ACC team, Duke, 19-3, avenging last season's loss to the Blue Devils. In the next meet West Virginia's Mounties rallied in the last few matches and defeated the Generals by a close score of 17-15. Traveling south, Dick Miller's men blasted the Bull Dogs of the Citadel 22-3 but were unable to get by a stubborn Davidson team dropping the final dual meet 15-11.

The wrestlers were considered a more powerful club than their record showed and with a season's experience under their belt, entered the Southern Conference tournament determined to win. The Blue team came close but were held to third place with a total of 41 points trailing V.M.I. and V.P.I.

The whole team turned in a tremendous showing in the tourney. Lee Armer, a freshman, wrestled one of his best matches and took fourth place while Dennis Patton at 130 pounds, placed second, losing to one of the top men in the South in a close match.

Another freshman, Jerry Parker, placed third in the meet.

He turned in a series of great matches during the regular season and ended the year with a 5-0 dual meet record. Co-captain Bob Miller placed third in the 167-pound class, once again meeting some of the better men in the conference.

Two of the outstanding performances of the meet were turned in at the 177-pound and heavy weight divisions. Gill Holland came very close to picking up a championship at 177, but the powerful junior from Lynchburg bowed in the final seconds. At heavy weight, John Hollister spotted the West Virginia entry 50 pounds and turned in a fine match dropping finally by a narrow margin in the last seconds.

Dick Whiteford, co-captain, was sidelined earlier in the meet. Both he and Bob Miller turned in good seasons and aided the team a great deal with their spirit and experience. Both boys were seniors and will be the only men lost by graduation.

Coach Miller was very pleased with the showing of the JV team. The junior Generals won two and lost three. They defeated the North Carolina frosh 15-10 and the Virginia frosh 21-13. They lost to V.S.D.B. 25-13, to AMA 20-18, and to powerful Grandby High School 28-7.

The team produced a good nucleus to build on for the next several seasons. Dave Pitard, Nathan Claunch, Jack Dubois, Harrry Alley, Dave Hughes and Tom Penny, all should be fighting for varsity positions next year. With only two men lost through graduation, the club should be a real power in the conference next season.

Many of the team's losses were by very close scores. The matches were close in all the meets and even where there was a big score difference the team made a good showing. The squad has acquired the needed depth that has hurt them for the last several seasons and should find themselves in a dominant position in the Southern Conference next year.

LACROSSE

Co-Captains Johnson and Bailey confer with Coach Corrigan.

Washington and Lee's hard hitting Lacrosse team ran through the tough 1956 season winning four and losing seven games, but came back during their summer tour of Europe, winning nine while dropping only one, playing All-Star English teams.

The stickmen opened the season with an impressive win over the Delaware Blue Hens 18 to 10, with Henry Lebrun and Bill Caspari pacing the scoring. The Blue made it two in a row, dumping Loyola of Baltimore 11-7, showing plenty of scoring power. The streak came to an end as the Maryland Lacrosse Club downed the Generals in a tough game 7-6. The all-star team boasted many former All-Americans, and the boys from Lexington pushed them all the way, dropping behind finally in the closing minutes of the game. Hofstra, one of the surprising teams in the country and a terror in the East, tripped the Generals 9-6. The mighty Terps of Maryland, national lacrosse champs, handed the Blue and White an 18-5 loss, but the game was closer than the score indicated, as the stickmen held the Terps in the first and third periods and were beaten more by lack of depth than by anything else. Johns Hopkins, a perennial lacrosse power, and one of the best teams in the Baltimore area, stopped the Generals in their best game of the year 7-6. Despite the setback the club's offense had been working very well.

The club then rebounded, dropping Duke 7-4 and Washington College 10-9 in a high scoring, well played game. The Generals then faced the Mt. Washington Lacrosse club, the great powerhouse of lacrosse. The stickmen played outstanding ball and held the Baltimore stars in the first half but succumbed finally 19-8. The team then lost two heartbreakers, 13-9 to the very strong Baltimore Bees and 10-9 to the University of Virginia's Cavaliers.

Co-Captains Dick Johnson and Carl Bailey were outstanding stars on defense, and teaming with Tom Moore made up one of the toughest defensive units in the country. Both Johnson and Bailey were highly ranked nationally. The Generals could also boast one of the top goalies in the country in Jim Lewis.

Bimbo Bailey

The offense was sparked by Dick Whiteford, Dick Moore and Ned Pendleton at attack, and by Henry LeBrun, Bill Caspari and Tom Martin in the midfield. Injuries to Whiteford, the Blue's star creaseman and to attackman Dave Nichols hurt the squad during the year.

The Generals left on their English tour on June 25th, trained during the voyage, and were in perfect shape for their opening game against Manchester University. The Generals won easily 8-4 but lost the services of Dave Noble and Nick Nichols. Next the team met the North English club and topped them 9-5. The Blue and White continued their streak beating the Cheshire team 7-2 in their best game of the tour, with Chuck Crawford and Jim Lewis starring on defense, and Bob McHenry and Dick Moore leading the offense. The Washington and Lee squad was awarded the Cheshire Badge that night to become the first visiting team to receive the award. Next the team met the combined Oxford-Cambridge team, and won again in a high scoring game. The W&L boys then played the Lancashire County Lacrosse team, the squad that had rolled over the University of Virginia two years before, and won 3-2, with Jim Lewis playing a fine game in the nets and Dave Nichols working well at attack. The Generals only loss came at the hands of the All-English Team, where playing before the largest crowd to assemble at a lacrosse game in England, they were outscored in a close game 5-4. The Blue then met three easy teams winning over Purcey 11-3, the Kenton Lacrosse Club 15-6 and the South of England team 11-4.

One of the officials of the English Lacrosse Union said to Deb Davis, the team's trainer, "I hope that all of the teams that come to England in the future will be like the boys on this team—they have shown all the things that we like to see in youngmen; spirit, sportsmanship, and most important, they are gentlemen."

Coach Corrigan was very pleased with the playing of the team, and with a larger bench this year, the stickmen should enjoy a winning season, playing one of the toughest schedules in the country.

BASEBALL

Washington and Lee's baseball team played some excellent ball in 1956 and turned in an improved season, both in their playing and in their record.

The Generals split a two-game series with Davidson in the season's opening games, losing the first game, 14 to 1, and winning the second, 11 to 4. The winning game was marked by Dick Newburg's excellent seven-inning pitching job and Jack Daughtrey's hitting. In their next series the team defeated the Citadel, 2 to 1, in the first game of a double header, only to lose a close 4 to 2 decision in the second. The Blue and White received fine pitching efforts from Buddy Dey in the first game, and Newburg in the second.

W&L's next opponent was a strong Virginia Tech team, and the Generals turned in their season's finest performance to beat the Gobblers, 9 to 7. After dropping 8 to 1 decisions to Virginia and William and Mary, the team came back to defeat Richmond, 9 to 7, on Dick Belden's two-run homer in the tenth inning. Joe Knakal picked up the win with a fine relief stint. The Blue and White followed up this victory with wins over William and Mary and Hampden-Sidney. Joe Amato turned in a superb pitching performance in the 6 to 2 win over William and Mary. The 9 to 8 victory over Hampden-Sidney featured the hard hitting of Dom Flora, Cal Couch, and Daughtrey.

After such an excellent start, the Washington and Lee team hit a mid-season slump and was able to salvage only one tie out of the remainder of their games. Injuries to key men and the loss of others due to scholastic difficulties helped cause the slump.

Highlighting the season were the Generals' wins over Virginia Tech and William and Mary, along with their tie and win over Hampden-Sidney. In these games, Coach McCann's team displayed some fine pitching and some timely hitting.

W&L received some excellent pitching from Captain Dick Skolnick and from Knakal, Newburg, and Dey. In many games a little more timely hitting would have won close games that were lost. The Generals' leading hitters were outfielders Daughtrey and Couch. Belden and Flora also chipped in with some key hits. Outstanding in the Blue and White defenses were John Turner, Bob Phelon and John Alford. The glovework of these men helped save several games in the late innings.

Coach McCann fielded a team that was sparkling in its hustle and spirit. The team pulled some games out of the fire with late rallies, when they seemed hopelessly lost. Washington and Lee baseball fans were treated to some thrilling games.

The prospects for this year are fairly bright with the entire infield and most of the outfield returning to action. Coach McCann's greatest worry will be his pitching staff. The loss of Newburg to the professional ranks and Dey's ineligibilty will put a great deal of pressure on Knakal. It is hoped that the team will receive some help from the freshman class. Alford's work behind the plate should help to steady down some of the rookie pitchers. Rumor has it that Doughtrey and Flora might also see some mound duty.

W&L's trouble all season was its failure to get together a co-ordinated attack. When the pitching was strong, as it often was, the hitting was not up to par, and when both hitting and pitching were functioning, the fielding fell apart. This is generally one of the weaknesses of a young team, and it is hoped that the experience gained in 1956 will be a big help to the team during the 1957 season.

SOCCER

Coach Gene Corrigan's booters kicked their way through the 1956 season, compiling one of their best records in recent years. The Generals' flashy team ended the year with an 8-4 record.

Led by the offensive play of freshman Wick Hollingshead and sophomore Burr Miller and the fine defensive play of Captain Moose Schafer, the Generals outclassed Randolph-Macon 5-2 in their opening game. A strong Cavalier team, a contender for the Atlantic Conference title, defeated the Blue and White 4-1. After a hard fought loss to North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the Generals bounced back to whip a powerful Roanoke College squad 3-0 at home. This started W&L on a five game winning streak.

The flashy play of Burr Miller and Bill Boyle paced the Blue team over Roanoke. After edging a surprisingly tough Lynchburg College team 3-2, the booters shut out Davidson 2-0 behind the fine goal tending of Bill Russell. The Blue continued their winning streak, slipped by an underrated Frostburg team 3-2, and then hammering an undermanned Davidson squad 5-1.

Duke put an end to this winning streak by nipping the fast moving Generals 2-1. The Blue team then rallied back to smash the Wolfpack of North Carolina State 6-3 in their highest scoring game of the year. The Blue and White kept their scoring drive going by dropping the Hoyas of Georgetown 4-1, with Beldon Butterfield and Bill Boyle pacing the offence. The Generals ended the season by dropping a tough game to mighty Maryland, the leading team of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

the freshmen, who gave the team the badly needed depth it had lacked the previous season.

Beldon Butterfield, Co-Captain of the team, along with Bill Boyle, the Burmuda flash, sparked the Generals offence and produced one of the finest one-two scoring duos in the south. Burr Miller played flashy ball all season and was high man in several games.

The play of Morgan Schafer was singularly brilliant all through the year, and he was rated as one of the top defensemen in the country. The fine goal play of Bill Russell gave the team much needed support in the nets.

Coach Gene Corrigan's more experienced booters had little trouble bettering their record of last season and will be a power in the south again next year.

The General's major victories came over Roanoke College, a team that is a leading power in the state, and has always been poison for the Blue and White in the past. The wins over Georgetown and North Carolina State were very pleasing to coach Corrigan and his hustling team, as both these schools have boasted powerful teams and compiled good records against all competition.

The General lost tough decisions to three of the best teams in the South. The loss to Virginia was a particularly hard one for Washington and Lee, as the booters pushed the Cavaliers most of the game, finally falling back in the last period. The Duke game was a lot closer, and could have gone either way, as the 2-1 score indicates. Both teams exhibited great defensive strength, and a low scoring game resulted. The loss to Maryland was a hard one to take, but the Terps were one of the strongest clubs in the South and well ranked nationally. Many Atlantic Conference clubs have had the advantage of imported players from South America and other areas, but their more experienced teams have still found the W&L squad hard to beat.

Injuries early in the season weakend the club somewhat and limited their bench strength, which has proved a problem for the last several seasons. A large turnout this year, and the fine play and fast improvement of the freshmen and sophomores, should give the Blue and White a strong bench and make them a real threat to any of the Dixie powers. Coach Corrigan continues to develop many new stars and the team should be full of surprises for all their opponents.

CROSS COUNTRY

Washington and Lee's young cross-country team opened the 1956 season finishing second in a triangular meet with VPI and Lynchburg. Coach Dick Miller's harriers next met Southern Conference powers, VMI and Davidson, placing third in a triangular meet.

The inexperienced Generals then suffered a loss to Roanoke College, the perennial Mason-Dixon Conference champs, in a hard fought meet. Following close defeats by Richmond, William and Mary and Virginia the Blue and White bounced back to shut out Randolph-Macon in their finest showing of the year.

Early in November the distance men took sixth in the Bix Six meet trailing Richmond and Virginia by a narrow margin. Later that month the harriers gained seventh place in the Southern Conference meet hard on the heels of Richmond and West Virginia.

Led by senior Captain John Arnold the General cross country team ended the season with a 2 and 7 record. Dick Miller was pleased with the fine running of freshman star Bill Loeffler, who has been developing into one of the better runners in the conference, and with the performance of sophomore Steve Coates. The Generals were plagued all year with injuries and Dick Sherrington and Mike Barry saw little service. Sophomore Joe Stevens and freshmen John Wilcox, John Pleasant, Ashby Morton, Jack Dubois and Jim Lykes all ran well during the season and should form a nucleus for a powerful squad for the 1957 season. Coach Miller was impressed with the way the freshmen and sophomores developed and feels the team will easily better their rating in the strong Southern Conference next year

SWIMMING

With a host of returning lettermen and a group of promising freshmen, the Washington and Lee swimmers posted their best record in more than fifteen seasons. Captained by Lou Aliotti and Jay Fox, The Generals only defeat was a 49-37 setback at the hands of VPI, which eventually won the conference championship. They captured eight meets during the season and then climaxed their efforts with third place finishes in both the Big Six and the Southern Conference. In the conference meet the Blue and White took five first places, second only to VPI. But, because of a lack of depth, their total was only 71 points, as compared with VMI's 100 and VPI's 104. The first places in the Southern Conferences were won by Art Blank in diving, Skip Rohnke, in the fifty yard dash, Fox in both the one hundred yard and the two hundred yard butterly, and the four hundred yard medley relay team of Duncan, Springer, Fox, and Rohnke, which set a conference record of 4:19.6. Records were also set by Fox in both of his events with a 1:03 in the hundred and 2:31.2 in the two hundred. Fox came out second in the voting for the best swimmer of the meet, losing by one vote to Grossman of VPI, who was a three event winner. In the Big Six, Fox was the only W&L swimmer able to capture a first, as he won his two specialties. He set a Big Six record in the one hundred yard butterfly with a 1:04.6, slightly higher than the W&L pool record of 58.3 that he holds. The Generals opened the season with a 70-16 victory over Roanoke, and then followed with easy victories over Virginia, 72-14; Maryland, 61-25; and Catholic University, 50-36, before beating East Carolina State Teachers College 47-39, as the four hundred yard freestyle relay team of Rohnke, Al Osher, Gus Glauser, and John Betts iced the match when they set a new pool record of 3:28.1. Lynchburg was beaten 76-8, as Blank broke the old pool diving record with one hundred and ninety-five points, and W&M fell 59-27, with Fox setting a new pool record in the two hundred yard butterfly with a 2:22.7. Then came the defeat at VPI, but the Generals ended with their eighth win by beating Davidson, 44.42.

GOLF

Coach Cy Twombley's vastly improved golf team ended the 1956 season with one of the best golf records in Washington and Lee's history. The team finished second in the Southern Conference and third in the state tournament while compiling a seven and three record in dual meets.

The Generals opened the season with easy victories over Northern Illinois State Teachers College and Dartmouth. The Blue and White next tied for second in a quadrangular meet with Ohio University, Colgate, and Denison, and continued on their winning ways by shutting out Lynchburg College.

After dropping a hard fought match to VPI, the Blue clubbers bounced back to blast William and Mary and Richmond. The General golfers then split their next two matches defeating West Virginia, while dropping a close decision to the University of Virginia. The team closed out the season's dual meets losing a close match to VPI.

In tournament play Washington and Lee placed second, close behind VPI, in the Southern Conference meet, and third in the state behind VPI and Virginia.

The highlights of the season were the Generals' impressive victories over Dartmouth, George Washington, Denison and West Virginia. In these matches coach Twombly's golfers demonstrated the ability that marked them as one of the best teams in the south.

Captain Ted Kerr, Ned Baber, Jim Sowell and Dick Vedder led the team to a vastly improved season. In the previous season the club was shut out in dual meet competition, while this year they won seven matches.

TENNIS

Washington and Lee's young tennis team surprised most of the experts by compiling an eight and four record over powerful opponents, while placing fourth in the Southern Conference.

The Generals opened the season with impressive wins over Kenyon and Marshall College. After the match with Davidson was rained out, the Blue and White blanked VPI and then dropped matches to George Washington and Richmond. The team then came back to defeat William and Mary, VPI and Hampden-Sidney, blanking the last two teams. The netmen then lost to Richmond and Virginia by very close scores. After a cancelled match with West Virginia, the netters hammered Hampden-Sidney.

The team's best matches were against VPI, William and Mary, and Virginia. The team sustained three of its four losses by a 5-4 margin. Many observers considered the Virginia match the highlight of the season. The Cavaliers, an Atlantic Coast Conference power, were favored to swamp the Generals, but, led by first man, George Stewart, the club came within and add of victory. Stewart surprised all by taking a brilliant three set comeback win from Virginia's highly regarded Sherrry Snyder.

Ably supporting Stewart were Mauricio Glauser, the Columbian flash, and John Peale and Kim Wood. Wood went through the entire season losing only one match. Glauser fought it out with Stewart for the number one spot throughout the season. The Columbian's fine backhand and drop shot made him a difficult opponent for anybody.

Coach Bill Chipley's team was made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores, and the club should become a power in the South and gain national ranking in the next few years.

TRACK

The Washington and Lee track team, relatively inexperienced and lacking depth, got off to a poor start during the 1956 season but saved face by winning the last two meets in quick succession. The Generals who were weak in the sprints and middle distances managed to pick up some points in these events, and to smash Lynchburg at home 76-56 and then traveled to Ashland to down Randolph-Macon 70 5/6 to 46 1/6.

In their initial outing the Generals found themselves on the short end of a triangular meet with VMI and Richmond. The scores were Richmond 79½, VMI 57½, and W&L 25. Barclay Smith and Alex Platt were the only two who were able to gain victories for the Blue. The second meet found VPI coming in for a visit and soundly thumping the Generals 83-48. Again Platt was a double winner. Gibby McSpadden won the high hurdles with a time of :15.7 seconds.

On April 21 the Generals traveled to Williamsburg for a Saturday afternoon engagement with the undefeated Indians of William and Mary. They showed improvement in most of the events although they lost the meet by a score of 90½ to 40½. W&M captured first places in nine out of fourteen events. Al Platt was the Generals only double winner as he copped first in the shot put with a heave of 43′ 3″ and in the discus throw with a throw of 137′ 10½″. W&L also captured the high hurdles as McSpadden equaled his VPI time of :15.7; the two-mile with Sherrington; and in the broad jump as Pres Pate jumped 20′ 6½″.

After returning from Williamsburg the Generals only had time to loosen up and they were off again. Three days later they had a dual meet in Salem, Virginia, with Roanoke College, which had what was probably the best track team in the state. Here the Generals were handed their worst set back of the year by a score of 100⅔ to 30⅓.

RIFLE TEAM

The second season with a varsity rifle team proved to be a much more successful one for Washington and Lee, as the sharpshooters finished with seven wins and six losses, compared with a six and ten record the year before. Sgt. Jones took the team over when Sgt. Gurganus left school, and with the help of Captain Jim Davis led the team to a fourth place finish in the Southern Conference tournament. The team was only one point away from third place. This finish moved them up one place from their fifth position finish the year before. David Owen led the team with a 279 in the conference tourney, followed by Richard Miller with a 275, Avery Juhring at 274, John Morton with 273, and Irv Ebaugh rounded out the team with a 266. Owen also shot the individual high score for the year, with 283 points in a triangular meet with Richmond and VMI.

The Generals started off by losing their first four matches but the boys found themselves against VPI, and then finished up strong, posting a six and two record in the last part of the season. This resurgence shows a bright future for a young sport at W&L. The team also competed in an Army Gallery Match at VMI in the latter part of March.

BUILT ON QUALITY BOOKS

We, the largest law publishers in the south, have built our reputation on legal publications of outstanding editorial quality, on fine workmanship in printing and binding, and on a prompt and personal service to thousands of valued customers.

No better example of mental and physical workmanship in a legal publication can be found than:

MICHIE'S JURISPRUDENCE OF VIRGINIA AND WEST VIRGINIA

(24 Vols . . . . $420.00)

It contains all the law of Virginia and West Virginia in a concise, accurate, readable form; and is truly the culmination of fifty years of experience in legal writing and publication.

Our Virginia representative, Mr. Durwood B. Wheeler, 4207 Chamberlayne Ave., Apt. 4, Richmond 27, Va., will gladly demonstrate, on appointment, the features of this great set of books.
